FERMENTING FUN

KIMCHI: think super powered kraut. with kick. This is one of the ultimate condiments that, when added to your arsenal of kitchen skills, and can really that ingredient you bring to potlucks and parties.

This super flavour enhancer can really make a rice, potato or plain piece of toast SING. It can add zing to your favourite broth, liven up pancakes so as to make them a savoury dinner treat. This relish of sorts plays an important role in nutrition, providing the consumer a bevy of additional vitamins and minerals, live enzymes and those all-important probiotics. These good bugs are so very important in maintaining gut health, digestive function, liver support; they are big players in maintaining our immune system, keeping toxins and heavy metals at bay, increasing our ability to poop like a champ. Oh yes, you will be a champ. Of this, I am sure. Hands on class and you will take home what you make.

DATE: Thursday, November 26th TIME: 7—9 pm

COST: $65/person (ingredients and containers are supplied) bring a cutting board, super sharp knife, two tea towels and large mixing bowl.

DEADLINE TO REGISTER: Thursday, November 19th.

CREMONA COMMUNITY CALENDAR

Just a reminder that there is a community calendar on the Cremona Village website. Organizations and community groups requested this calendar but it is not being utilized. Here are the directions once again for requesting access to this calendar to advertise your events. This should include events running in other local rural communities.

1. www.cremona.ca
2. click on Calendar of Events in the menu on the left hand side of the page.
3. On the top right side of the calendar click on the red text: Community Group Sign Up
4. Fill in the Approval Application (this should be the contact person who will be posting events to the calendar)
5. You will be sent a link, via email which will allow you to add your events to the calendar.

Any questions please call Jan @ 403 337-4277 or the Village Office @ 403 637-3762.

WHAT IS CAMPUS ALBERTA CENTRAL?

Campus Alberta Central (CAC) is the connection between rural learners and their learning goals. We are a joint venture between Olds College and Red Deer College, operating as Campus Alberta Central.

The needs of adult learners are unique. Commitments of children and family; jobs; community; and busy lives can limit education opportunities. Especially if the learners do not live in the cities where the colleges are located. This is why Olds College and Red Deer College came together to form a partnership. Instead of expecting learners to move to them, why not take the learning opportunities to the learners? And CAC was born...

CAC offers various post-secondary programs and courses to adult learners in the many communities of Central Alberta. By working with the local Learning Sites, students are able to access classes in their own communities and from their own homes, with assistance. They are not left on their own to figure it out – there is community support and face-to-face help available.

This connection and personal contact in the communities is what makes CAC successful for the learners.

Learn in your own Community

Technology is a beautiful thing, especially when it makes life a little easier. Easy access to education is no exception. CAC has formed unique partnerships with existing community-based learning organizations as well as a number of post-secondary institutions, allowing access to accredited post-secondary programs and courses in communities throughout Central Alberta.
